Dear Senator Fasano and Representative Klarides:

I am a single woman who was laid off in 2012. It has been a struggle since I lost my position at AT&T. Rather than raise additional revenue, how about living within your means? My salary took a huge hit and I had to make due. Why do you punish those who work hard to make ends meet and choose to reward those who do not work. The people of CT cannot afford a tax hike of any sort. Your pockets are not limitless, why do you choose to believe mine are? Choose instead to trim your budgets much like I had to.
